

Information about shops and food businesses

If people don't have anyone living nearby who they trust to help them with shopping, they are being advised to get in touch with their local community hub. We hope this summary will help community hubs to signpost people to local shops and food businesses that they may find helpful.

We are pleased to say that local shops are moving quickly to change the way people shop in store and introduce new services in response to the coronavirus crisis. Many small shops and takeaways are already prioritising vulnerable residents when providing services and many others are happy to do so on a case-by-case basis.

The list of local suppliers included in this summary was inspired by the lists that are already being created by local authorities, the voluntary sector and community groups across the county.

Please make sure you are using the most up-to-date version and let us know if anything needs correcting, changing or adding to the next version.

Home delivery

Small stores and takeaways are able to adapt quickly due to their size. Many of the stores we have spoken to are now offering telephone shopping and delivery to people's homes. Some are already prioritising vulnerable people and many more were open to the idea.

There will be many more businesses in the county that we haven't spoken to yet who might be willing to help. So when you are signposting don't forget to check if the person you are helping has a local shop they already know and trust, as they might be better placed to help.

Signposting people to services

We have done our best to ensure that the information in these lists is accurate and up-to-date. The service descriptions are based upon what the businesses have told us and the Council hasn't vetted the services in any way. As a result, we can't provide any guarantees about the safety and quality of the services or whether they are value for money.

If people are concerned about illegal trading activity or think that they may have been a victim of a scam they can get in touch with Trading Standards at the Council.

Services from Sussex-based food and drink producers

To support Sussex food & drink producers at this difficult time, the Sussex Food & Drink Awards team has created and is continuously updating a map that shows safe shopping and home delivery services for local produce in Sussex.
